CITY OF RIZE

Rize is a natural harbour in the north eastern Anatolia, where the blue sky, Black Sea and foggy peaks hug each other. The very name 'Rize' is known, throughout Turkey, for high quality tea production. Home to many tea plantations, former empires, the ancient Greeks, Byzantine and the Seljuk Turks, each contributing to Rize's rich culture in food, textiles and language. Rize is in the Northeast Anatolia circled by Trabzon (41 miles [66 km]), in the west, Bayburt and Erzurum in the South, Artvin (55 miles [88 km]) in the East, on the Georgian border, and Black Sea in the North. The nearest airports are in Trabzon (41 miles [66 km] west) and in Batumi (60 miles [100 km] east).

a. Weather

Rize has a borderline oceanic/humid subtropical climate (Köppen climate classification: Cfb/Cfa) like most of the eastern Black Sea coast of Turkey, with warm summers and cool winters. Snowfall is quite common between the months of December and March, snowing for a week or two, and it can be heavy once it snows. Rize and the eastern part of the Black Sea coast where it is situated has the highest precipitation in western Asia, with an annual precipitation averaging around 2,500 millimetres (100 in), with heavy rainfall year round and a maximum in late autumn (October to December). The Black Sea coast receives the greatest amount of precipitation in Turkey and is the only region of Turkey that receives high precipitation throughout the year. Because of that do not forget about umbrella and good shoes. The water temperature, as in the whole Turkish Black Sea coast, is always cool, fluctuating between 8 and 20 °C (46 and 68 °F) throughout the year. If you are going to visit Rize during winter semester you should take some warm clothes too.

b. Time Zone

Turkey is in the Eastern European Time Zone. Eastern European Standard Time (EET) is 2 hours ahead of Greenwich Mean Time (GMT+2).

c. Currency

The Turkish lira (Turkish: Türk lirası) is the currency of Turkey. The Turkish lira is subdivided into 100 kuruş.

The exchange rate is 1 Euro = 3,32 Turkish lira (08.08.2016) .

d. Banking

All major credit cards (Visa, MasterCard and Euro Card) are accepted in the majority of services and retail outlets. Some outlets may accept Diners Club and American Express cards. Most credit cards can be used in ATMs. Students have the opportunity to conduct transactions in Ziraat Bank located in the main campus. Apart from Ziraat Bank, there are also various ATMs (Automatic Cash Machines) in the main campus.

e. Postal Service

PTT Bank is the cheapest way to send/receive packages or posts. There are also other private postal services (MNG Kargo, Yurtiçi Kargo, etc.)

f. Safety

RTEU is in a secure, low crime area, with living costs that are substantially lower than those on urban areas.

g. Electricity

Turkish power plugs are 2 round pins running at 200V.

h. Telephone If you don't have a GSM mobile phone (cep telefonu, 'pocket phone'), you'll probably use a public pay phone. Look for public phones near post offices, hotels, bus and train stations, shopping areas, and major public squares.

Public phones operated by Türk Telekom have pictograph instructions and operate on either credit cards (Visa, Mastercard, American Express) or on phone cards (telefon kartı, telekart) that you buy from post offices, street kiosks and other places advertising Telekart Satılır (Telekarts for Sale).

It's sometimes easier to use a kontrollü telefon, one with a usage-unit meter attached: you make a call and pay in cash for units used.

These are found at street kiosks and other small businesses.

THE NATURE CALLS FOR YOU

Be sure to ask the rate per unit before you call. Rates vary: shop around, pay less!

Local (in-city) call:
Şehiriçi ara (sheh-HEER-ee-chee
ah-rah)
Long-distance/Trunk
call: Şehirlerarası ara (sheh-heer-LEHR-ah-ah-suh ah-rah)
International call:
Milletlerarası ara (mee-leht-LEHR-ahrah-suh ah-rah) (Rates)

Turkey's GSM mobile (cell) phone companies are Turkcell (900 Mhz, the largest), Vodaphone (formerly Telsim (900 Mhz, next largest), and Avea (1800 Mhz, the smallest).

Turkcell coverage is the best in Turkey, pretty much everywhere, except for occasional relatively small dead spots in a few remote and/or mountainous areas in the eastern region of the country.

Vodafone, with 22% of the mobile phone customers in Turkey, has fairly good coverage (map) in towns and cities larger than 10,000 in population, but the least complete coverage of the three companies.

Turk Telekom, with 17% of Turkey's mobile phone customers, has extensive coverage of the country (map). You probably won't find significant areas in your travels that have no service.

are particular specialities of this region and the principle ingredients of many famous dishes e.g. 'Misir Ekmegi' or cornbread with anchovy, and 'Muhlama' a dish made with butter, corn and a special cheese.

c. Visa and Residence Permit

Visa

Passports should be valid at least six months longer than the expiry date of the requested visa.

The term "official passports" covers diplomatic, service, special and official passports. Regardless of the visa regime applied towards the citizens of a country, the travel document holders of that country need to obtain visa from Turkish missions beforehand.

If you have a valid visa, you do not need a residence permit up to 90 days. On the other hand, foreigners who shall reside, work or study in Turkey, should register themselves at the nearest local police department upon their arrival in Turkey, regardless of the validity of their visa.

As of April 17, 2013, electronic visa (e-Visa) replaces "sticker visa" which was issued at the border crossings. Applicants just need to log on to www.evisa.gov.tr, provide the requested information, (after the application is approved) make online payment and download their e-Visa. Please note that e-visa is only valid when the purpose of travel is tourism or commerce. Other purposes, such as work and study, require regular visa given by Embassies or Consulates.

Getting a residence permit looks a bit difficult at the beginning. This part will help you how to do it step by step.

There are two different residence permit for Erasmus students:

- Erasmus Learning Residence Permit
- Erasmus Internship Residence Permit:

If your stay in Turkey is less than 90 days and your visa allows you to stay here 90 days, you do not need to apply for residence permit.

If you have visa on your passport more than 90 days you still need to apply for residence permit.

Turkish People who live in Europe if they have Turkish ID or Blue Card (Mavi Kart) they do not need to apply for residence permit.

EU citizens have 90 days stay in 180 days. So if you are staying more than 90 days you have to apply for residence permit. It doesn't matter you leave Turkey and come back. Your visa doesn't start again. You can go out of Turkey and come back in your first 90 days. After you spent your 90 days you will be overstayed in the country that's why you need residence permit.

After you passed the customs the police will stamp your passport. After you get the stamp on your passport, your adventure starts!

If you still reading this article, most probably you need residence permit.

Before doing application just prepare these documents with you in order to have a succesful application:

- Your original passport
- Active Turkish Mobile Number (Better to use your one)
- Valid Health Insurance (you can insure yourself either in your home country or in Turkey. If you do this in your country, then you will have it translated. If you do it in Turkey, no translation needed and it will be cheaper. The insurance policy should have minimum prices indicated in the list below.)
- Detailed Residence Address in Rize (you can have this document from the place owner where you stay)

You can start your application process for residence permit (see sample of permit card below) via Directorate General of Migration Management (Göç Genel Müdürlüğü) web site. Visit the link below and choose English in order to make it easier for you.
